

Sentence Diagramming: Subject and Predicate

When you diagram sentences, you write the subject and predicate on a line with a line between them.

Example: The cat caught the mouse.

For each sentence below, write the subject and predicate on the line provided. Draw a line between the subject and predicate.

1. The boy ran fast.

2. The cow ate the green grass.

3. We sang a song loudly.

4. Lisa went to the library.

5. The tall tree grew in the forest.

6. Tom Sawyer painted the fence.

Sentence Diagramming: Subject and Predicate

When you diagram sentences, you write the subject and predicate on a line with a line between them.

Example: The cat caught the mouse.

For each sentence below, write the subject and predicate on the line provided. Draw a line between the subject and predicate.

1. The boy ran fast.

2. The cow ate the green grass.

3. We sang a song loudly.

4. Lisa went to the library.

5. The tall tree grew in the forest.

6. Tom Sawyer painted the fence.

